

In an effort to be closer to family, I have decided to move on from Soil Foodweb Canada. This move takes me back to my hometown in Ontario where I hope to continue to share the philosophy of sustainable growth. During my time spent with Soil Foodweb in Vulcan I have had many positive memories I will cherish for a long time. Too many to share here, though I will say most have been while on the road with growers! Thank you for the support, guidance, and encouragement everyone, from coworkers to growers, has provided me during my time in Vulcan. Although I will miss my colleagues and the company, I look forward to a new challenge and the path my career will take. I plan to keep in touch, and hope that you do too.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Christine". The signature is written in black ink and is positioned above a long, thin, curved line that extends from the end of the signature down towards the typed name below.

Christine George